Course Dates: January 9th–March 26th, 2020

3 Credit Hours

COURSE DESCRIPTION

A basic overview of the central doctrines of the Christian faith, designed for those who have no previous, formal training in Christian theology, or for those who need a refresher. Students develop a basic understanding of the method and content of systematic theology as presented in the Apostles' Creed and the classical evangelical tradition. For MATS and MABLE students, this course may be used in the core by permission of the program coordinator.

A Note about the Course Format:
This is an online course that is focused on in-person interaction and discussion. We will meet “live” via Zoom on Thursdays from 7pm-10pm SK time. See course assignments below for more information. Instructions for how to log into Zoom will be posted to Canvas.

COURSE TEXTS

All other readings will be provided in Canvas.

Students are expected to refer to Briercrest Seminary’s Format and Style Guides and Guide for Writing Research Papers, available as PDF documents here: https://www.mybriercrest.ca/seminary/documents/.

Students are responsible for course materials and communication on Canvas (https://briercrest.instructure.com; cf. http://briercrest.ca/online/canvas) and their myBriercrest.ca email account.
COURSE OUTCOMES
At the end of this course students should be able to:
- Understand and define major theological concepts and terms
- Do research using theological resources
- Identify the diversity and similarity of ideas across various streams of the Christian tradition
- Articulate and defend their own statement of faith and understand how it relates to the broader Christian tradition
- Have the tools and resources to begin putting together the doctrinal component of their graduation portfolio
- Appreciate the relationship between theological doctrine and Christian practice
- Charitably read and critically examine theological primary source texts

ASSIGNMENTS

Participation 5%:
We will meet weekly via Zoom from 7pm-10pm SK time. Students are expected to attend all lectures. Understanding that there may be extenuating circumstances, students are permitted no more than 2 absences from the live lecture periods. Students are expected to participate and demonstrate that they have read the textbook readings (from Jones and Bird), as well as the panel discussion readings for that week. For any weeks missed, students are required to watch the recorded session, and post a minimum 500 word summary and response essay to the discussion forums.

Research Skills 15%:
In the various live lectures, there will be 4 research skills homework tasks. Students must complete these by the dates posted in Canvas. These tasks should take approximately 30 minutes to complete.

Panel Discussions 30% (2x15%):
Primary source readings related to each week’s topic will be assigned for panel presentations and discussion. Each student will sign up (on the Google Doc posted in Canvas) to present on 2 discussion panels (depending on enrolment numbers this may change). The panel participants will have to participate live. Each panel participant will summarize his/her article, and, having read the other assigned articles, be prepared to dialogue with the co-panelists, and facilitate discussion with the rest of the class. The rubric for this assignment will be posted to Canvas in advance to assist students in the preparation of this assignment. The list of primary source readings and how to access them will be posted one month before the start of class.

Key questions that you may want to engage during the discussion:
• Why does this doctrine matter?
• Why is it complicated?
• What does it change?
• Where can it go wrong?

Panel participants will each type up a 2-page summary of their assigned article (point form is fine) and, at the bottom, include 2 substantive discussion questions. Participants will use this summary to make their presentations, and then, after the discussion, will submit the summary to the professor in Canvas.

The panel discussions will be approximately 60 minutes in total length:
• 10 minutes for each panel participant to present (30 minutes total)
• 25-30 minutes for class discussion

Students who are not leading that week’s panel discussion will read the assigned articles and participate in the live discussion.

“Why Theology?” Essay 20%:
Read Barth’s Evangelical Theology and Johnson’s Theology as Discipleship. Write an 8-page essay answering the question, “Why theology?” In other words: Why is theology important for the life and mission of the Christian and/or the Church?

The first 4 pages should be a substantive summary of the key ideas and arguments in the texts. The last 4 pages should be an attempt to integrate or apply what students have read to their current ministry, educational, or vocational context. Why does theology matter for you, the counselling student? the leadership student? Why does theology matter in your current career (especially if your career is in a secular field or discipline)? Students will be expected to show mature engagement with the textbooks in this reflective portion.

This assignment must be formatted according to the Chicago-style format guide and uploaded to the assignment tab on Canvas.

This assignment is due on Sunday February 9th by 11:59pm SK time.

Major Assignment: Statement of Faith and Exposition 30%:
All Briercrest students complete a graduation portfolio in the final year of their program. A significant component of this portfolio is the doctrinal statement. The assignment in this class is designed to give students the building blocks so that they can continue to refine and revise their statement of faith, resulting in a document that they can use, not only for the graduation portfolio but also for applications for jobs in various ministry fields (pastorate, missions, lay ministry, music, and Christian education).

Therefore, for this final assignment, students will write and defend a statement of faith.

Students are welcome to use and/or adapt an existing statement of faith provided that they properly cite the original statement of faith and provide a one paragraph reason for using that (or these) particular statement of faith(s). (e.g., “I am adapting (or adopting) the PAOC statement of faith because I am working towards ordination within the denomination.”)

Your faith statement should include references (in brackets) to the relevant passages of Scripture for each articulation. E.g., I believe in God, the Father Almighty (cite verses that refer to God as Father; that refer to God as the Almighty), creator of heaven and earth (cite verses that demonstrate that God creates). Your statement of faith should not be one large paragraph, or essay. It should have clearly demarcated points/separations/paragraphs/sections.

Your statement of faith must include a statement on each of the following:
• The Triune God
• The person and work of Jesus Christ
• The Holy Spirit
• Creation
• Humanity and Sin
• Salvation (including statements on election, faith, justification and sanctification)
• Scripture
• The Nature of the Church
• The Mission of the Church (including statements on baptism and the Lord’s Supper)
• Last Things (including personal and cosmic eschatology)

Attached to the statement of faith, students will include a 2-page exposition/defense FOR EACH component/section of the doctrinal statement. Each exposition must cite a minimum of 3 scholarly, theological sources (and students must cite a minimum of 10 different scholarly, theological sources overall). Each 2-page exposition must also:

• Include an explanation of why you include each statement
• Include an exposition of key theological terms used (e.g., “inspired”; “justification”; “atonement”; “Trinity”; “persons”, etc)
• Include a brief discussion of particular distinctives in your tradition/denomination concerning the doctrinal point and how they relate to the broader Christian community.
  (e.g., if your church/denomination specifies a particular mode of baptism, unpack why that mode is theologically significant and how it relates to other modes of baptism. Is another mode a “deal-breaker” for you and/or your denomination, why or why not?)

If students have adapted a doctrinal statement from a pre-existing statement of faith, their exposition should also, briefly, address why/how they have adapted the statement on that particular doctrinal element.

This assignment must be formatted according to the Chicago-Style format guide, including footnotes and a bibliography, and must be uploaded to the assignment tab on Canvas.

NOTE: A tutorial on how to complete this assignment will be posted to Canvas.

This assignment is due on Thursday March 26th by 11:59pm SK time.

SEMINARY CALENDAR

Students are expected to be aware of the policies that govern course work at Briercrest Seminary, all of which are published in the current Seminary Calendar:
https://www.briercrestseminary.ca/academics/calendar/.

Attendance Policy

Students are expected to attend 100% of each modular for which they register. If this is impossible due to extenuating circumstances, arrangements must be made with the course professor before the first day of class. If extenuating circumstances prevent a student from attending class, a maximum of one full day of class can be foregone. If additional time is missed, the student will fail the course unless they first request to withdraw from the course or move the course to an audit.

Course Schedules

Classes begin at 9:00 a.m. on Monday morning and run a minimum of 30 hours through the course of the week. The schedule is determined by the course professor. Students should check the syllabus for specifics. When the syllabus does not state class times, students are responsible to check with the professor prior to making travel plans.

Assignment Submission
All assignments must be submitted no later than eight weeks after the last day of class as stated in the syllabus. The correct due dates will be clearly noted in the syllabus and each faculty member will state in their syllabus how assignments should be submitted. Assignments submitted within a week after the due date will be accepted with a 10 per cent penalty. For additional information refer to the late assignment policy or the extension policy in the academic calendar.

Return of Graded Assignments
Professors are expected to return graded assignments within six weeks of the due date. If they fail to do so, students may submit an inquiry to the Seminary. If an extension is granted, the professor is no longer obligated to meet this deadline.

Academic Honesty
Students are accountable to perform each task according to principles of academic honesty. Please refer to pages 24-25 in the academic calendar for more information.

Academic Accommodations
Any student with a disability, injury, or health condition who may need academic accommodations (permanent or temporary) should discuss them with the course instructor after contacting the Director of the Academic Resource Centre in person (L234 in the Library), by telephone (1-306-756-3230) or by email (academicresourcecentre@briercrest.ca). Documentation from a qualified practitioner will be required (i.e., medical doctor, psychologist, etc.).
